

The night in the meuseum

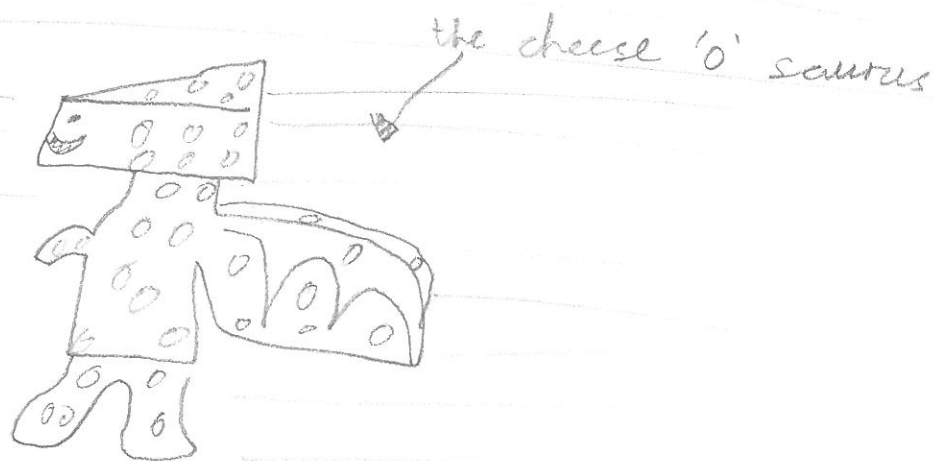

by Kon. IV.

Kon was a boy who lived on number 13 purcell rd, he also hated doing his school homework. This week Kon needed to find out about a dinosaur called the cheese 'O' saurus, at first Kon had no idea about who the cheese 'O' saurus was but then he looked at the sheet of paper properly and read: Today's (next weeks) homework is all about dinosaurs, we will be visiting a meuseum in 2 weeks time, it will you with the glasson at the meuseum. The students need to find out about one of the following:

1. The cheese 'O' saurus.
2. The terexosaur.
3. The jam 'O' saurus.

Kon thought for a moment where would he find a statue of a cheese 'O' saurus. Kon asked his mum and she said to ask his dad and his dad said to ask his mum and so on, after a moment of reading the fourth book of harry potter and a tiny bit of thinking he knew where he needed to go. he quickly got dressed and packed his note book into his rucksack.

Kon knew that if he asked his mum she wouldn't let him go just because of what happened when he was four; he had splat a tomato at a lady's face, so Kon needed to think of another plan. The next morning Kon gobbled up his breakfast totally forgot about school and went to the museum. At the museum he asked a person if where he could find the cheese 'o' saurus, the person told him to go upstairs then left. So Kon went upstairs and turned left, and he saw the cheese 'o' saurus (it was only a statue) he took out his note book and drew:

Of course it was not a very good drawing because he was not a talented artist and didn't listen in school (at Michael's C.E. ~~Ass~~ Aided primary school) he was great in maths and hated literacy!

Then Kon wrote down this:

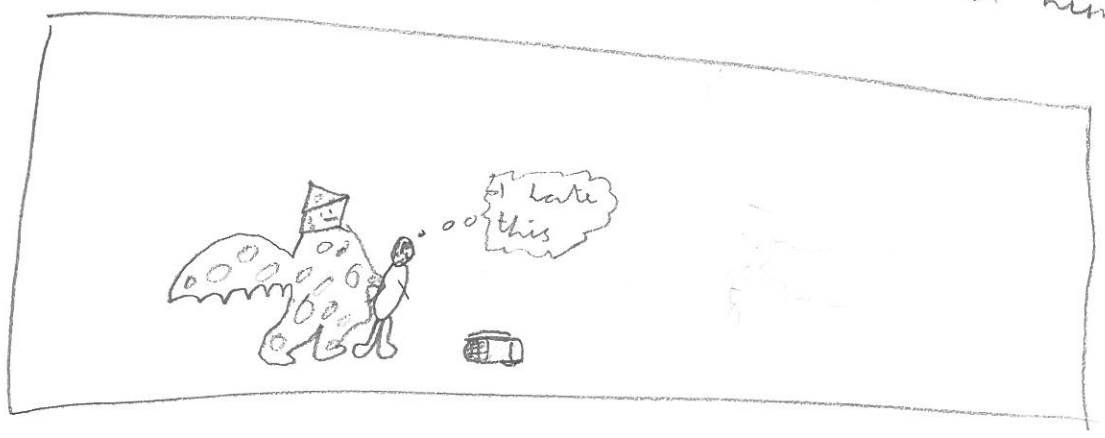

The cheese 'o' saurus is ten metres tall
and only eats cheese he is a cheese eater unlike other dinosaurs he was the first one every discovered because of its bad camouflage.

while he was writing this little note he heard
a giant 'all ~~hail~~ ^{hail} cheese' and suddenly turned around to see a cheese 'o' saurus
eating cheese! "Hello"! said the cheese 'o' saurus
"hello"? said Kon he didn't seem to ^{was} like
of a cheese 'o' saurus standing right next to him!

It was now night and Kon knew that he couldn't go out of the museum because it was closed he didn't panic he just stood there! The cheese 'o' saurus went up to him and poked him Kon didn't move.

If Kon moved the cheese 'o' saurus would squirt gunk (Kon had read this in his book). Kon had been bored since he came into the museum but now he wasn't bored at all he was fascinated! "Can you be in my show and tell?" asked Kon "sure" said the cheese 'o' saurus "can you get us out of here please" said Kon "yeah grab on" the cheese 'o' saurus held out his hand and off they flew (the next day). Kon was walking to school on a normal Friday, carrying the cheese 'o' saurus in his backpack! At show and tell when it was his turn he called the cheese 'o' saurus out of his rucksack and told his class all about him!

~~~~~
The END!
~~~~~